Father Ken's Note...

Is there ever a day when God tires of excuses?

Once a man said, "If I had some extra money, I'd give it to God. But since I have just enough to support myself and my family, I can't give God any." Later that same day the same man said, "If I had some extra time, I'd give it to God. But every minute is taken up with my job, my family, my activities, so I can't give God any of my limited time." Later that same day the same man said, "If I had a talent I'd give it to God. But since I don't have a good voice and no other special skill, I have nothing by way of talent to offer to God, so God will get nothing from me."

God was touched upon hearing all the man would do for God, if he had some extra money, time or talent. God decided to give the man extra money, more time and a wealth of talent. God then waited, and waited and waited...for the man to give some of the extra time to God that he promised, to spend some time with God as he promised and to share some of his talent with God as he promised.

Not hearing from the man, God thought to himself that this man meant none of the things he said so I think I will take back from the man his extra money, his extra time, and his wealth of talents.

Shortly after that, the man said, "If I had some extra money I would give it to God, if I had some extra time, I would spend it with God, if I had some talent I would use it for God." God looked at the man and softly said, "Stop—I heard all this before from you. I am moving on to someone else."

Father Ken
